Bake the hashbrowns according to the package directions. Fry and separate sausage. Mix eggs with milk—salt and pepper to taste. Dice the onion and bell pepper and add to the egg mixture. Spray the casserole with cooking spray. Layer the bottom of a large casserole dish with the hashbrowns. Add a cup of shredded cheese on top of that layer. Add the egg mixture. Cover that layer with the sausage. Add 1/2 cup of cheese and any hashbrowns you have left over. Cook at 375 for one hour until the middle of the casserole is set.

Note: When serving casserole, it should not be runny. It must be completely set. Cook longer if necessary.
